A delightful and unique shade of pink, with the outside of the petals a rich crimson. Before the buds unfold, they are a deep cardinal-red. The long-stemmed buds open slowly and last exceedingly well because they have such heavy substance. Tallyho has nearly all of the characteristics that planters want in a Rose—easy growth, a beautiful bud, remarkably handsome open flowers, rich spicy fragrance, and a delightful color scheme never before seen in a Rose.

DIAMOND JUBILEE. Plant Pat. No. 824.

They are high centered and fully double, and the heavily textured petals do not fade in warm weather. The rugged plants are vigorous and disease resistant. You will enjoy the warmth of color, the perfection of form, and the delightful Old Rose fragrance that this Rose offers.

SLEIGH BELLS. Pat. App. For

Large, ovoid buds are borne singly on strong stems and are produced so freely that one can gather quantities of flowers for the table. Opens gradually to blooms of great size, with forty or more petals of great substance. A trace of primrose at the base of the petals adds charm to the flower. An outstanding feature is that the stems have thick, leathery, glossy foliage, which is exceptionally disease resistant. Slightly fragrant, Sleigh Bells is that better white Rose you have been searching for. Not illustrated.

What means—ALL-AMERICA ROSE SELECTIONS

The All-America Award is the highest distinction bestowed in this country on the very best new Roses. Plants are sent to eighteen official test gardens and six demonstration gardens located in different parts of the country so that all major types of climate, soil, and other growing conditions are represented. For two years, expert, impartial judges carefully check the development and growth of all Roses, scoring each one on separate and distinct qualities. The highest scores are then submitted to the National Rose Jury, which selects the winners. Gardeners can buy these new Rose varieties with confidence, knowing they are getting the very best.

To Our Many Friends and Customers—

In this little Rose book we are attempting to acquaint you with the better Roses that are available today.

Gerard K. Klyn has been growing Roses here in Mentor, Ohio, for the last thirty years. Our farms are located along the shores of Lake Erie where the soil and climatic conditions are most favorable to growing A No. 1 Roses. Mr. Klyn, who grew Roses in Holland before coming to Mentor, supervises and rigidly inspects all operations from the time the understock is set in the ground until the finished plant is dug.

Gerard K. Klyn, Inc., spares no expense to grow Roses properly, dig them carefully, and pack them so they reach you in the very best condition.

Fall is the ideal time to plant Roses. The plants are ripened off carefully and are freshly dug. You, as a garden lover, receive your plants full of vitality. Remember, all our stock is grown here in Mentor, where we can supervise digging and handling. Roses planted in the fall will give you better blooms, and a greater number of them next spring, because they make new roots in late fall and start growing earlier the next year.

Prepare the bed in advance, and when the plants arrive, it will take you only a matter of minutes to set them out.

Place your orders early—AT ONCE, if possible, to avoid disappointment. Orders are filled in the rotation in which they are received, and if our supply of some varieties is low, the early orders always get the preference.

Your plants will be shipped at the proper time for planting, usually around November 3. We will pay the postage on all shipments, and we guarantee the plants to bloom at the next normal flowering period after planting provided you follow our instructions. Full instructions will be found in each shipment.

All-America Selection For 1948

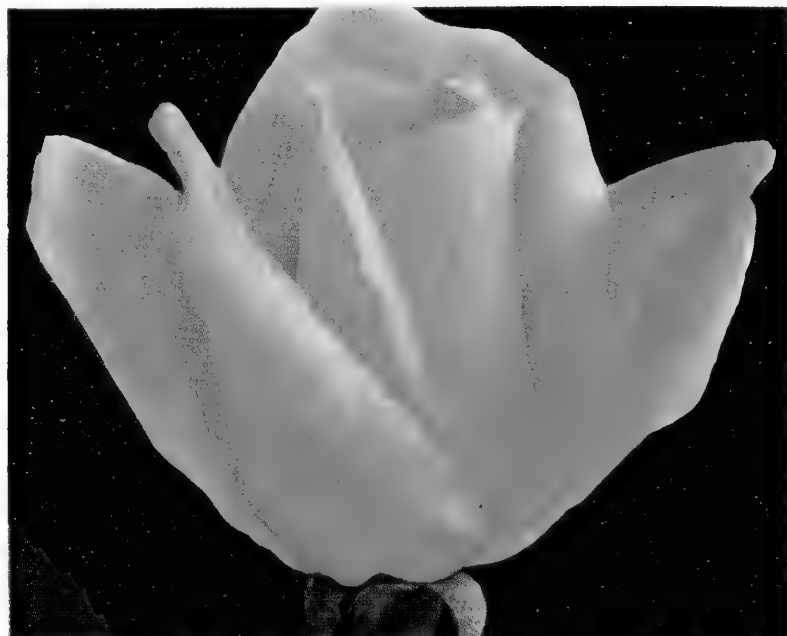

This variety is outstanding for its ability to produce many long-stemmed, perfectly formed, fragrant buds in the rich pink and salmon tones that almost everyone likes. It is difficult to name any one color typical of this variety. At times it may be described as rose-pink, salmon, and apricot, but the predominant color is usually a rich carmine-rose in the bud, changing to begonia-rose in the open flower. Vigorous and upright, better than average size, the plant is moderately bushy, with large, glossy, dark green leaves. Along with this changeable coloring goes a perfect, slender bud form and frilled, delicately veined petals. A perfect Rose for the bud vase.

MANDALAY. Plant Pat. No. 775

A New Color for a Rose

FASHION, an exquisite new floribunda, promises to be one of the most popular new roses with its interest and high novelty appeal. The color is something new for the rose world and the plant gives a constant mass of flowers throughout the entire season.

The color is luminous coral-pink overlaid with gold which softens to a clear coral and then deepens to reddish tones at the finishing stage. The buds are an interesting oriental red and are pointed and open slowly into lovely miniature Hybrid Tea form.

The open blooms are about 3½ inches, sometimes larger. The bud opens slowly into a wide open flower with graceful wavy petals and a rich display of golden yellow stamens. It has an enchanting old rose fragrance.

The plant is full, bushy and very generous. It reaches a height of 2½-3 feet. The dark glossy green foliage is richly attractive and hangs on well—right down to the ground.

In England where Fashion was exhibited at the National Rose Society's summer show, it was given the gold medal for the best new variety shown. The London Evening Standard said it was "the sensation of the show."
